Weekly Gospel Reflection Reflexión semanal del evangelio

In today's Gospel, we hear Jesus again predict his passion, death, and Resurrection to his disciples. The setting here is important. Jesus and his disciples are preparing to journey through Galilee, a Jewish territory in which Jesus has already encountered problems with the Pharisees. Perhaps this is why Mark indicates that Jesus was trying to journey in secret. In predicting his passion, Jesus is acknowledging the danger they will face and is trying to preparing his disciples for it. Yet Mark tells us that the disciples did not understand what Jesus was saying and were afraid to ask what he meant. Such hesitation on the part of the disciples is not characteristic behavior. Peter had no fear about rebuking Jesus in last week's Gospel. Perhaps this is an indication that the disciples were aware that a new situation was emerging.

Mark paints a vivid picture in today's Gospel. Having arrived at Capernaum, Jesus and his disciples enter a house. In this private place, Jesus asks his disciples about the argument they had while they were journeying. Again, the disciples are uncharacteristically silent and afraid to answer. They have been found out. Jesus then summons the Twelve, whom Mark identified earlier in his Gospel as those chosen by Jesus to preach and to drive out demons. To this select group of disciples, Jesus teaches that those who would be first in God's kingdom must be servants of all.

Jesus then calls forward a child and teaches the Twelve that to receive a child in Jesus' name is to receive both Jesus and the One who sent him. We might easily fail to understand the significance of this action. In first-century Palestine, children were without status or power, possessing no legal rights. In this action, Jesus is teaching his disciples and us that when we serve the least ones among us, we serve Jesus himself. Who are the people without power or status in our society that Jesus is calling us to serve? Do we do so willingly? Jesus teaches that God's judgment of us will be based on this criterion alone.

En el Evangelio de hoy, escuchamos nuevamente a Jesús predecir su pasión, muerte y resurrección a sus discípulos. El contexto aquí es importante. Jesús y sus discípulos se están preparando para viajar a través de Galilea, un territorio judío en el que Jesús ya había encontrado problemas con los fariseos. Quizás es por eso que Marcos indica que Jesús estaba tratando de viajar en secreto. Al predecir su pasión, Jesús está reconociendo el peligro que enfrentarán y está tratando de preparar a sus discípulos para ello. Sin embargo, Marcos nos dice que los discípulos no entendieron lo que Jesús estaba diciendo y tenían miedo de preguntar qué quería decir. Tal vacilación por parte de los discípulos no es un comportamiento característico. Pedro no tenía miedo de reprender a Jesús en el Evangelio de la semana pasada. Quizás esto es una indicación de que los discípulos eran conscientes de que estaba surgiendo una nueva situación.

Marcos pinta un cuadro vívido en el Evangelio de hoy. Habiendo llegado a Cafarnaúm, Jesús y sus discípulos entran en una casa. En este lugar privado, Jesús les pregunta a sus discípulos sobre la discusión que tuvieron mientras viajaban. Una vez más, los discípulos guardan un silencio inusual y tienen miedo de responder. Los han descubierto. Jesús convoca entonces a los Doce, a quienes Marcos identificó antes en su Evangelio como aquellos elegidos por Jesús para predicar y expulsar demonios. A este grupo selecto de discípulos, Jesús enseña que quienes serán los primeros en el reino de Dios deben ser servidores de todos.

Jesús llama entonces a un niño y enseña a los Doce que recibir a un niño en el nombre de Jesús es recibir tanto a Jesús como a Aquel que lo envió. Fácilmente podríamos no entender el significado de esta acción. En la Palestina del primer siglo, los niños no tenían estatus ni poder, no poseían derechos legales. En esta acción, Jesús está enseñando a sus discípulos y a nosotros que cuando servimos a los más pequeños entre nosotros, servimos a Jesús mismo. ¿Quiénes son las personas sin poder ni estatus en nuestra sociedad a las que Jesús nos llama a servir? ¿Lo hacemos voluntariamente? Jesús enseña que el juicio de Dios sobre nosotros se basará únicamente en este criterio.

FAITH FORMATION

This Tuesday, September 24th, we will be beginning monthly Parish Faith Formation Nights held on the fourth Tuesday of each month. Along with parishioners of the Cathedral of St. Andrew all are invited to join Father Juan and Father Joseph in an evening of formation and prayer. After the 6 pm Mass there will be time for dinner and fellowship in the cafeteria, then studies in groups and concludes with a communal prayer. Individuals preparing for marriage, involved in the Parish Religious Education program, and liturgical ministers are required to attend. One of the main purposes for our coming together is to form a community as we grow in our faith together.

Junto con los feligreses de la Catedral de San Andrés, todos están invitados a unirse al Padre Juan y al Padre Joseph en una velada de formación y oración. Después de la misa de las 6 pm habrá tiempo para cenar y convivir en la cafetería, luego se estudiará en grupos y se concluirá con una oración comunitaria. Se requiere que asistan las personas que se preparan para el matrimonio, las que participan en el programa de educación religiosa parroquial y los ministros litúrgicos.
